

QUEEN CITY ISD 2011-2012 CALENDAR

For the 2011-2012 school year, Queen City ISD will be participating in the Optional Flexible School Year Program which provides for days at the end of the school year (called flexible days) to provide intensive intervention for students who meet certain criteria. These flexible days are marked in red on our school calendar. The web links below provide further explanation concerning which students will need to be in attendance on the flexible days.
